CASE STUDY – [ Compulsory ]

Ken worked in a Research Department as a researcher and was laid – off as the department was closed due to recession. He decided to meet the CEO for a possible outplacement in other departments to accommodate him. However, the secretary of the CEO, Diana did not permit Ken to meet the CEO saying CEO was busy. Ken returned without meeting the CEO. He got better employment elsewhere and joined.

Ken, being a researcher, wrote an article for an International Journal while working in the research department. It was published after 9 months and received complementary copies from the publisher. Ken wanted to share his success with his former CEO and went to meet him to gift a complimentary copy. Below was the conversation between Ken and the secretary of the CEO.

Ken : I would appreciate if you could arrange an appointment with CEO. I want.... (Secretary Interrupted).

Secretary : Why did you come? We have already handed over your application for outplacement. You may go now.

Ken : I did not come for employment. I have come to gift a complementary copy where my article featured.

Secretary : No, No, the CEO sees and knows everything.

Ken : It is not a departmental Journal. It is a prestigious International Journal. I want to inform him and gift the book.

Secretary : “You will not get appointment. The CEO is busy” leave it and go (She said impolitely and started looking here and there). Ken handed over the copy to the secretary.

Ken : Fine, please hand over to CEO. I am leaving. However, I will send an email to CEO about my coming physically to gift the book.
