

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Financial statement analysis is a process where analyzing and studying a firm's financial statements in direction to analyses its past present and predicting future routine. This process of analyzing financial statements allows for better fiscal decision making. The listed company are required by the law to file their financial statements with the Investors. Many organizations are obliged to offer the financial reports In the annual reports. They share with the Sponsors, The purpose of the financial statements analysis is to understand the past performance and potential problems of the company collect the information about the past performance of in the future and also important purpose of the analysis of the financial accounts is to find the potential problems of the company.

This project attempts to focus on financial statement analysis of Avant grade hospitality pvt limit, Bangalore. It mainly deals with the analysis of financial position of the fava and caperberry restaurants by using financial ratios. In this study the financial statements, balance sheet, profit and loss acc and cashflow statement over a period of five years that is from 31 march 2015 to 31 march 2019 are analyzed the calculating the financial ratios like current ratio.

This study mainly focuses on to analyze the profitability of the company and liquidity position of the company. In short term which restaurant is earning short term profits and its liquidity position during the 5 years period. Analyzing both the restaurants profitability through its equity ratio and financial leverage ratio.