ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I take this opportunity to thank the following people for their support and encouragement without which this thesis would have not been possible.

First and foremost, I offer my deepest gratitude to my guide Ar. Siby Kuriakose, who has supported me throughout my thesis project with his patience and knowledge, giving me helpful inputs and the room to work in my own ways. I thank his excellent guidance and for providing me a good atmosphere for conducting my research.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to Ar. Chaitra, Ar. Priyanka Manusanipalli, Ar. Mallikarjun, Ar. Pradipto and Ar. Sheeraz Zaidi (Dean, A.N.R.V.S.A) for giving us the inspiration and support that was required.

I would like to thank all my professors for guiding me all these years to this stage. I wouldn't have accomplished this project without the knowledge they imparted in the last 5 years.

Last but not the least I thank my family and friends for their constant support and understanding me during the course of this project.

PREFACE

Co-working spaces are the new office locations for most companies. These workspaces help in cutting down on company costs by providing a shared workspace for a number of companies while also giving the advantage of socializing and increasing networks. Biomimicry inspired co-working space will help in providing a space that is environmentally friendly, thus keeping the health and mindset of the working professionals at their best.

Most people spend their life inside the walls of their cabins. This affects their mood and creativity and, hence there is a need to reform such space.

Co-working spaces are shared office spaces where workers can rent out workstations on an hourly, daily, weekly or monthly basis. This saves companies the cost of leasing out office space and setting up infrastructures.
