ABSTRACT

It's a project of a bungalow with two units, everything thing is same, the total area is also the same. However, the two units looks very different because in each units different themes are used. In unit 1, the entire space id designed based on minimalistic theme where everything is simple. Whole idea behind is to create a very smooth, clam and a simple space using furniture with simple fine lines and colour that are not very strong, just the tones of gray and a few strong colour here and there. While the first unit is al; about simplicity, other unit, unit number 2 is based on rustic themes. Unlike unit 1, this unit will have some strong colours and will not be as polished and manicured instead it will be rugged, rough and aged. Both the units has same space but will look different from one another, while one is modern and minimal other is old, aged and rustic.
